ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAMS.

HAVAS AGENCY

Madrid 30th.

Diplomatic relations between Berlin and Madrid drag on. Nevertheless opinion prevails in well-informed circles that a pacific solution, with due regard to dignity of both powers, will be come to.

Palermo 30th.

Deaths from cholera in last 24 hours 89.

Berlin 30th.

M. de Giers, Chancellor and Minister for Foreign affairs of the Russian Empire, visited Prince Bismarck to-day; no particulars of the interview published yet.

Vienna 30th.

Situation in Albania more strained. Movement has already assumed proportions of an insurrection, and Turkish forces find great difficulty in maintaining the sovereignty of the Ottoman Porte.

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

Santiago de Chile, 29th—Telegrams from Iquique to the Industria report an earthquake at Lima, the effects of which have been felt at Callao and other towns. The earthquake has caused considerable damages. Up to the present no details of the losses have been received.

Last night a terrible fire broke out in Iquique and destroyed six blocks of houses in the most central part of the town. The losses entailed by this disastrous conflagration are estimated at over a million and a half dollars.

According to telegrams just received the Colombian revolution has been bought to a close.

General Santo Domingo Vila seized the steamers Isabel, Cristobal Colon, Montoya, Confianza, Bismarck, and Cometa, which were in the hands of the rebels. Gimenez Collantes and General Urrea have been imprisoned.

The rebels are completely defeated and have lost all their war material.

Rosario, 30th—The report on the Curzo Forzoso has been favorably received here, with the suppression of Art. 4.

Last night the prisoners who attacked the Jefatura in San Lorenzo arrived in this city, where they will undergo the punishment they well deserve.

The police are making the most strenuous efforts to discover the perpetrators of the robbery in the deposits of the Oeste Santafecino.

Santiago del Estero, 30th—The banquet announced took place in one of the izlands. Towards the close of this convivial gathering speeches were made, all against Deputy Gorostiaga. Deputy Beltran remarked that all the Deputies for Santiago had fulfilled their duty with the exception of Gorostiaga, who had turned Rochista.

At 3 p.m. yesterday M. Pastor Gorostiaga died after a lingering illness. Deceased, an uncle to the Deputy, was much esteemed, and his loss will be greatly felt.

Montevideo, 30th—The Nacion publishes a lengthy article in opposition to the letters of Dr Costa. The article is one which will make many 'braves militaires' tremble.

The 'verduleros' had their demonstration last night amid the greatest enthusiasm. They were about 500 in number when they started from the Plaza Independencia. They followed the Calle 18 de Julio, to the sound of music and halted in front of General Santos' residence. A reporter on the staff of the Ferro Carril spoke in behalf of the 'manifestantes.' The President in reply thanked them for their demonstration of which he had the honor of being the object. Unfortunately a heavy rain came down on the heads of the 'manifestantes' and the crowd that accompanied them, and the demonstration dissolved, the feelings of all being considerably damped at the untimely conclusion of the manifestation.

It is stated that Minister Victorica's reception will be the most brilliant on record.

Don Isaac Tezanos is despaired of. A third operation was performed on him yesterday. Don Juan Jose Arteaga is also in a very serious state of health.

The Buen Pastor Asylum will be handed over to its proprietor to-morrow.

All the papers publish Dr Rocha's speech at the Sunday demonstration, a most sincere compliment to the Presidential candidate.

The Orenoque's mails are full of articles on the Caroline question.

M. Logaron, well-known in commercial circles in this city, arrived by the Orenoque.

A 'cuadrilla' of bull-fighters and bulls are expected from Spain towards the end of October.

FUNEZ ON "CURSO FORZOSO."

Deputy Funez's speech in Congress on the "curso forzoso" bill will be read with interest by the general public, since it is the clearest explanation of the bill and of its antecedents that has as yet emanated from the House. Most of our readers will consider Mr. Funez's views as sound, and, from what we could gather in the ante salas of the House, we believe they will prove triumphant, since they are based on strict principle and honor.

Mr. Funez said:—

Sr. Presiden,

Very seldom has such an important question been presented for the deliberation of Congress. I feel quite convinced that the honorable Deputies, putting aside all other ideas for the present, will give it their full attention, as any false steps may produce irreparable wrongs. The committee have long and carefully studied the question; it was a sacred duty with which they were bound to comply. Let us hope, Sr President, that the Committee in their despatch has made everything plain sailing. Fortunately public opinion appears to favor it. This question should have been the first for Congress to sanction, in order to escape the anxiety and alarm which is of itself sufficient to ruin the country, but perhaps the delay has been productive of one good in giving the House time to form a correct opinion on so difficult a subject.

No newspaper in the country has opposed the despatch of the committee, but, on the contrary, many are in its favour; and on the President's table there lies a petition in favour of the committee's report and signed by over 50 of the principal city merchants.

The committee would have been pleased if the newspapers occupied themselves more with the question, and discussed the matter more fully, as from the friction of such discussion the true light would appear, and we should all see the matter in its true bearings. It seems providential,

For a long time we have been all complaining against the nuisance of the lotteries, and now they are done away with.

In many instances with certain men everything opposing the torrent is backward. In the National Chambers, in the Provincial Chambers we have struggled and fought against lotteries, which we considered immoral. They were prohibited by the laws of the Constitution and yet they existed and were tolerated. Very fortunately opinion was firm as a rock in this respect and Congress was greeted with unanimous applause when it swept away this immoral gambling. In the present, debate we may perhaps come to an agreement. For my part I have no hesitation in stating that I have never had a deeper conviction, especially with reference to the suppression of art. 4.

Government has presented to Congress the decrees in virtue of which the bank-notes were declared inconvertible. Crises impose necessities, and are difficult to avoid. The causes that have produced them may be many and complicated. Perhaps the foreign loans which we contract not unfrequently, perhaps our numerous unnecessary expenses, perhaps the fact that we never succeeded in having a "superavit" in our Budget, perhaps the coming Presidential elections, are the causes of the crisis. However, there can be no doubt about it; the crisis is upon us and we cannot close our eyes to the fact. Government came to the conclusion that the banks in general, and particularly the National and Provincial (Buenos Ayres) Banks are intimately linked to our industry, our trade, and our interests.

The two principal banks exerted themselves to the best of their power for the purpose of avoiding the crisis; but we all know that private interests must overcome all obstacles, and other banks and other merchants, who foresaw the coming events, drew their gold, and when the crisis made its appearance the State Banks were powerless.

Government, the only authority at the time as Congress was not sitting, grasped the situation and understood that less evils would result by issuing these decrees, the beneficial action of which embraced all the banks. But in issuing these decrees guarantees were taken, that are not usually resorted to; the emission was limited, an inspector was appointed and steps were taken to protect the public from an immoderate and unbridled issue of paper.

Several of the banks gladly accepted this law and all that were placed in a similar situation participated in its advantages.

The Orenoque's Mails.

London, Sept. 2nd.

Civic deputations from Edinburgh and Glasgow were received by Her Majesty and Princess Beatrice yesterday, and presented congratulatory addresses on the marriage of her Royal Highness.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales arrived in Swedish territory yesterday on his way to Stockholm. He travelled in a saloon railway carriage placed at his disposal by the King.

Her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales, with her daughters, is expected to arrive at Copenhagen at the end of the present week.

Prince Louis of Battenberg has been promoted to be commander in her Majesty's fleet.

On Monday the Emperor and Empress of Russia had a busy day at Kieff, having taking part in numerous public ceremonies. In the evening they left for St. Petersburg.

Yesterday the Khedive returned to Cairo from his tour of inspection in the Delta. All danger of an inundation by the Nile is believed to have passed away.

Up to the 24th ult. all was reported quiet at Cabul. The Ameer had ordered a supply of military uniforms and equipments chiefly from Bombay Parsees.

From comments of the Paris journals it appears that the reported agreement between England and China is viewed there with dissatisfaction.

Admiral Courbet's funeral took place yesterday at Abbeville with much pomp. Many naval and military officers were present.

M. Selikovich published a letter in M. Rochefort's journal yesterday, reaffirming the truth of his assertions, and contesting the accuracy of Colonel Kitchener's statement, but the "Republique Francaise" declares that it "will not bear examination."

It is reported that the Ameer of Bokhara is about to abdicate in favour of his second son.

In consequence of some suspicious cases of illness on board the Spanish steamer Marzo, which has arrived in the Firth of Forth with esparto grass, the vessel has been placed in quarantine in Leith Roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone left the Sunbeam at Fort George yesterday, and travelled by railway to Kincardineshire, on a visit to Sir Thomas Gladstone, of Fasque. The right hon. gentleman will in a few days proceed to Hawarden, and it is stated that in October he will revisit Scotland to address his constituents.

Last night's Gazette notifies the appointment of the Royal Commission on Trade.

Orders have been issued for the Channel Squadron to assemble at Portland in a few days for a cruise round the United Kingdom.

Speaking at Dublin last night, Mr. Parnell, M.P., said if it was made impossible for the Irish people to obtain the right to administer their own affairs they would make other things impossible for those who did so. He, however, asked the people to abstain from outrages.

Dr. Kevin O'Doherty, one of the '48 men sentenced to penal servitude, was yesterday presented with the freedom of the City of Dublin, and stated that he was ready to take part in the approaching electoral struggle. He suggested the holding of a conference of Irish delegates from all parts of the world.

Yesterday, the autumnal meeting of the Iron and Steel Institute began in Glasgow, and a mining institution was opened.

Working men delegates held a meeting in London last night to protest against the unrestricted sale of objectionable literature in the streets, and it was resolved to send a deputation to the Home Secretary and the Lord Mayor.

On the recommendation of the Commissioners of Metropolitan Police, the Secretary of State has reorganised the appointments in the Detective Department of Scotland-yard.

According to the report of the Commissioners of the Patriotic Fund the amount invested in the names of the trustees is £426,729.

A report on the working of the railways in the United Kingdom for 1884 has been issued by the Board of Trade, showing that the result was less satisfactory than for several previous years.

Last Saturday the exceedingly quiet town of Dawlish was the scene of a fatality startling even in this world of universal collisions, and sad even with our increasing roll of suffering and mortality. Some children, in the care of a governess, lady's maid, and nurse, had lately arrived at Honiton, and had soon found a quiet nook where they could sit and watch the receding waters. To their apprehension everything indicated safety. There were a regular footway, a tunnel, a bridge over a gap, and the fact that every morning the spot was frequented by hundreds of bathers not only from Dawlish, but from Exeter. Plenty of people were aware that the cliffs are there always slipping into the sea; that there had been a notice-board warning strangers; that it had been carried away by a landslip not two months before; that there had been a long question of right between divers owners and authorities, and that only a few weeks before the matter had been pressed on the notice of the local Board by a clergyman entitled to a very respectful hearing. But neither children, governess, maid, nor nurse had heard of the danger. In a moment they were crushed by an avalanche of earth and stone, computed at 50 tons. The lady's maid, the nurse, and the youngest child were killed on the spot, the rest more or less seriously injured. A hospitable home has been darkened with life-long regrets, and even Dawlish has been frightened.

Mr. Sidney Locock, Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Emperor of Brazil, died on Sunday at 22, Southwick-street, Hyde-park. The deceased gentleman was the fourth son of the late Sir Charles Locock, F.R.S., D.C.L., the distinguished physician, by his marriage with Amelia, youngest daughter of Mr. John Lewis, of Southampton-place, Euston-square, and was born in 1834. Mr. Locock entered the Diplomatic Service in 1854, was appointed Second Secretary at the Hague in 1862, and was promoted to be Secretary of Legation in Japan in 1865. He was transferred in 1868 to the Hague, where he was employed as Acting Chargé d'Affaires for a short time in 1869, and again in 1872. He was appointed Secretary of Embassy at Constantinople in 1872, and was acting Chargé d'Affaires there from January till May, 1874, when he was nominated Minister Resident and Consul-General to the Republics of Guatemala, Costa Rica, Honduras, Nicaragua, and Salvador. In 1881 he was appointed Minister Resident in Servia. Mr. Locock married in 1859 Abbie, daughter of the late Rev. Jonas King, D.D., of Athens, by whom he has left family. He has died from the effects of recent sunstroke at Belgrade.

On the Stock Exchange yesterday the chief feature was the active demand for American, Canadian and English railways. Caledonian rose about 2½ on the announcement of a dividend at the rare of 4 per cent. per annum. Foreign bonds were neglected, while Egyptian Scrip improved ¼. On balance,, £31,000 in gold was received at the Bank.

IRELAND.

Dublin, Aug. 31.

The tocsin was again sounded at Mullinavat Chapel yesterday morning at 6 o'clock, and was responded to by the bells of the chapels of Bigwood, Thomastown, Ballybole, and Bereberan. In answer 4,000 people assembled at Ballyfaisey, where evictions were attempted on Thursday last. They were armed with pitchforks, scythes, prongs, shovels, axes, and cudgels, and the scene was one of great excitement. It was, in fact, but little, if at all, short of an insurrectionary movement. The cause of the gathering was a report that an attempt would be made to carry out the evictions, but after waiting for five or six hours the people found that the report was erroneous and dispersed.

Recent telegrams from home seem to show that the frontier difficulty is settled, at least for a time. In India, however, no one believes in the permanence of the settlement, and the conviction is strong and general that the crisis has only been postponed, and that Russia will seize the first favourable opportunity to renew her encroachments. The news which has recently been received that she is hurrying on railways and roads from the Tejend to Merv, and from Merv towards the Oxus, points to her determination to strengthen herself for the next forward movement, and to the absolute necessity on our part of not relaxing our efforts to prepare for the inevitable struggle. Lord Dufferin's Government may be trusted not to lose sight of this supreme necessity, and it is fervently to be hoped that the British public will not allow the excitement of the general election or the details of party struggles to divert attention from matters which are of the greatest moment to our Indian Empire.

The Ameer, if the latest reports be true, is pushing forward his preparations with increased vigour. He is said to have abandoned the design of enlarging the palace at Cabul, and to have devoted the money intended for that purpose, nearly three lakhs of rupees, to military works, including three ammunition depôts and new barracks for 2,000 infantry at Herat. It is also stated that two redoubts are to be erected at Maimena, and a new fort, with a revolving tower, at Tirpul. The Calcutta Englishman is responsible for a story which represents the Ameer in a new light, that of exceptional humility—namely, that he has posted in the mosques of Cabul notices inviting the prayers of the faithful for the Ameer, Lord Dufferin, and the Vice-Ameer, Abdurrahman.

A rumour, apparently well authenticated, comes from Herat that the Governor has lately shown some discourtesy towards Sir J. Ridgeway. He is said to have taken offence at the refusal of the British Commissioner to supply some money for which he asked. Then, fearing that his behaviour might be reported, he stopped the post from the camp of the Commission, opened some of the letters, and had them translated to him. The Boundary Commission, on the date of the last news, was at the Sangbust frontier. All was quiet.

THE LEVEL OF PRICES AND GOLD SUPPLY.

For years past there has been complaint of depression of trade in Europe. The cry, waxing stronger and louder, year by year, has led the Government of Great Britain to institute an official enquiry into the causes of this depression. Meantime men, not officially authorized, make enquiry on their own account.

Mr. Goschen, in a speech at Manchester, threw doubt on the asserted depression, by showing that the volume of trade of the United Kingdom, and also the income and savings of the nation, were steadily increasing. But as no one knows that the shoe pinches better than the wearer the complaints continue.

This depression in trade is accompanied by an almost universal fall in the level of prices. It is evident that between the two there is some connection, and enquirers look for the cause of this fall in order to find a remedy for this depression.

Professor Giffen, and some others, consider this fall as in some measure due to the decrease in the production of gold. In opposition to this opinion, Mr. M. G. Mulhall, who has won for himself a name as a statistician, has supplied an article to order for "The Contemporary Review," in which he attempts to prove that the supply of gold has nothing to do with the level of prices. Mr. Mulhall commences by showing that the level of prices has varied considerably during the last hundred years, and is now lower than at any other period during this century; further, that it has been highest during the progress of great wars, and has, as a rule, steadily fallen in times of peace; then, that the estimated stock of gold has nearly doubled since 1850. From these premises he argues that the production of gold has nothing whatever to do with the level of prices.

We accept Mr. Mulhall's statistics without cavil, but we differ in toto from the conclusion he draws from them.

The Currency Acts of the year 1816 established gold as the basis of the monetary system of Great Britain, and by these, supplemented by the Bank Act of 1844, gold and money were made synonymous terms throughout the United Kingdom, the supply of money being made absolutely dependent upon the supply of gold. With the exception of Holland, no other country adopted this system until within the last fifteen years.

In the year 1875 France established what is known as the "bi-metallic system," and possessed but little gold coinage until the gold discoveries in California and Australia placed an unusual supply at her disposal.

The German Empire, seeking to establish monetary uniformity as a means of consolidating the new nation, adopted the British mono-metallic system in the year 1876, and France, fearing the loss of her gold coinage, of which she had learned the superiority, suspended her bi-metallic system by ceasing to coin silver.

The United States, on the recent resumption of specie payments, adopted by law the bi-metallic system of France, but only a small amount of silver coin enters into circulation. Commerce is more powerful than the Legislature, and all business is carried on on a gold basis.

The bi-metallic system of France has done good service to the world by establishing and maintaining for eighty-five years the relative values of gold and silver, in spite of considerable variations in the respective supplies of the two metals; but the system is in itself illogical, and can neither be continued nor re-established, now that the stern logic of facts has proved the great superiority of the mono-metallic system of Great Britain. The consequence is, that the use of the gold basis is rapidly extending, and the demand for gold is out of all proportion to the increase in the trade and population.

The invariable effect of a supply of money, in excess of the demand, is to raise the level of prices; the equally invariable effect of a demand for money, in excess of the supply, is to lower the level of prices. This statement might not be accepted as an axiom in England, where the measure of value for seventy years has been gold, of the stock of which no accurate account can be kept, but we, who live under a different monetary system, have only too frequent evidence of the effect of an inflation or of a contraction of the currency.

Where gold is not money, the supply of gold can have no effect upon prices, but the use of gold as money is rapidly extending; the annual supply from the mines is now barely one-third of what it was at the height of the gold fever. The Law of Demand and Supply rules the value of all things, therefore the value of gold must increase as the demand exceeds the supply, and in all countries where gold is synonymous with money, the level of prices, which is the value of other commodities as measured by gold, must fall.

Mr. Mulhall shows that the level of prices rose exceptionally high, on two occasions during the past century:—

1st. During the war with Napoleon, 1800 to 1815—Gold during these years was not synonymous with money in England; specie payments were suspended and the premium on gold rose as high as 60 o/o.

2d. During the gold fever, when gold was synonymous with money. He says that, according to the theory that the level of prices depends upon the supply of gold, prices should have doubled during this second period, forgetting that though Great Britain was then the only nation in which gold was synonymous with money, she was not the only nation which used gold. The plentiful supply of gold created a demand for it everywhere, and the supply available for coinage in Great Britain was not greatly increased by this unusual output from the mines. Nevertheless this increase in the supply of gold had its natural effect in stimulating commerce and producing a temporary rise in the level of prices.

Further on he talks of the uncoined stock of gold, as though it were a reserve upon which the Mints of the World could at any time draw in order to increase the amount of coined money. The world is growing in wealth; that is, the number of people who have money to spend on superfluities, is increasing; gold is a metal highly appreciated as an article of pomp and luxury. So long as men can sell gold ornaments for more than their weight in gold they will never turn any of this portion of the world's stock of gold into gold coin. Ingots of gold held by Banks as security against an issue of notes, cannot be considered as any part of the reserve of gold. The only reserve stock of gold which can thus be held to be available for coinage, consists solely of secret hoards, of which the amount must ever be unknown.

The level of prices has nothing whatever to do with the prosperity or happiness of a people. Whether a man earns one dollar a day or twenty, matters nothing so long as with this one dollar or with twenty dollars he can equally provide for his wants; but the process of change from one level to a lower is fraught with misery and injustice.

The producing and trading classes are immense borrowers of money, which they repay at long dates; any fall in the level of prices between the day they incur the debt and the day of repayment is a tax upon them which goes into the pockets of the capitalist. Here we have then the solution of the enigma, depression in trade contemporaneous with an increase in the annual savings of the country. The active workers of the nation are mulcted of their hard-earned gains to increase the riches of the wealthy.

The remedy is not far to seek, but it will be difficult to persuade John Bull that his much-vaunted "Gold Standard" is a delusion and a snare.

William Pilling.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

August 24th.

The news from Annam and Tonkin continues to be very bad. The climate appears to be killing the French like flies. To send a reinforcement would be to create a storm of opposition, and at the same time France refuses to scuttle. M. Barier-Chauffour, Jules Ferry's nephew, is being well looked after. His uncle gave him the concessions of mines, etc., in Tonkin; French soldiers were employed as "prospecting parties." The nephew had not a centime of his own, yet he commanded millions. The French Press insists that the matter be explained and the "promoters" dragged to light. M. Brisson, as Minister of Justice, is called on to prosecute. These are the kind of transactions which have covered the opportunists with so much opprobrium.

Sorrows will never cease for the French in the Far East. M. Ristelhueber, French Consul at Tien-Tsin, has arrived in Paris with the executed treaty of peace. He has been interviewed. Respecting the alleged Anglo-Chinese alliance, he cannot give a definite opinion; but he avows that the English try to keep the Celestials at war with the Gauls, and this after an Englishman (Sir Robert Hart) pulling the French out of the mud in which Jules Ferry plunged them to the chin. It is sufficient to discourage Britons from ever saving Monsieur, should he again be involved in a Crimean war or a sacking of Summer Palaces at Pekin.

The failure of Sir "Doctor" Wolff's mission (as he is entitled) would not cause politicians here to put on sackcloth and ashes. It is to be deeply regretted that France does not display a better spirit to pull with England. However, it appears Germany has stepped in to occupy the place in John Bull's bosom. Hence the improvement all along the diplomatic line for England. Now that the Mahdi has gone to render an account of his doings to Mahomet, and Osman Digna has retired to Soudan La Trappe Monastery, and the Alexandrians have received their bomb-shell indemnity, Egypt presents no difficulties. Not an Anglophobist even jokes about that heal-all plaster, internationalization.

Since England displays by acts, not words, her intention to stand by her "ally" the Ameer, the Zulficar and all the other passes draw no longer any serious attention. It is the timely fortification of Herat and the resolve of England to protect that happy valley for the free commerce of the world which occupies public opinion. For the future there will be no mistake about the scientific frontier of India. The meeting of the Emperors of Austria and Russia—of oil and water—at Kremsier scares nobody, not even a Polish refugee or a biding-his-time Nihilist. It affords the strange spectacle of Francis Joseph being able to take his walks abroad as unmolested as a citizen of the Far West, while the White Czar has to be presented to him in a kind of cage, so great are the precautions to prevent Alexander from being converted into fragments by some of his loving subjects on the run.

Electoral drumming continues day and night; the situation is Micawber-like. The voters are displaying more and more a pronounced aversion for all candidates who do not distinctly name the points of their charter; they say, and wisely:

Notre credulite faite toute leur science.

Clemenceau still keeps to the front, despite his advanced programme. Jules Ferry seems to be making no way. Public opinion waits for the ministerial thirty-nine articles; no great expectations are anticipated from M. Brisson and the 'little white mouse,' M. de Freycinet. They still remain in the estimate of the public simply assignees of the estate of that politically absconding bankrupt Jules Ferry; they will never realize Fourier's ideal—assisting at that banquet of humanity where all will be reconciled in the midst of plenty. The Republicans have been deceived by republicans; hence, their divisions. They do not want so much Shibboleths as a leader as a trusted thane possessing a sort of personally magnetising influence.

Paul de Cassagnac has had a lucid interval; he pops the shrewd question, "how many real republicans are there in France?" Evidently that "enfant terrible" of all the varieties of Bonapartism does not believe their name to be legion, since he sends round the hat for assistance to help him to slay the Third Republic—by first paying his election expenses. The Orleanists, by the marriage of one of their pretty princesses with the son of the King of Denmark, have done an excellent stroke of political business. Even in this democratic age, it is something for a wife to be able to boast she has the Emperor of all the Russias, including the Zulficar pass, and the Prince of Wales, for brothers-in-law. The bride-elect is the pet of her grand-uncle, the Duc d'Aumale, near whom she resides; he will settle some millions on her, for the Denmarks, like the Teeks, Christians & Co, are not rich in this world's goods; he will place his chateau of Chantilly at their disposal, and on his death they may expect to inherit his famous Zucco wine estate in Sicily.

Pel, the Montreuil watchmaker, has been found guilty, with attenuating circumstances, of the 'disappearance' of his servant girl. Thus he will not be guillotined. The whole trial is a downright disgrace to French justice. The presiding judge cross-examined the prisoner after something of the style of the Old Bailey counsel. Those who wish for fair play must protest against such juridical manners, and hope that Clemenceau may arrive at power, sufficiently long at least to sweep away that and a few other abuses. Pel was ably defended by M. Laguerre, Deputy, the young chief-lieutenant attached to Clemenceau.

The cholera in dirty Marseilles has had for result to seriously injure the already too depressed condition of business. It is not vaccination is required, but drainage and cleaniness; the sewers having been made by the Phœnocians, surely stand in need of some repairs after having been constructed in the year 963 B C. Awaiting such improvement the population ought to try guitar playing, which has been found as efficacious in the Spanish barracks against the plague as inoculation by Dr. Feran, or a pronunciamiento.

LATEST FROM CHOEL-CHOEL.

The river does not give much trouble; just now it keeps on rising and falling and if it doesn't overflow its banks before Spring sets in we do not fear an inundation this year. The notice of the free grants of land decreed by Government has just reached us, and officers and men are in high spirits in consequence however, we all remember the Paraguayan grant made by Sarmiento and his Government, and what the result was; now that Roca and Co. have a short term of office before them, it is on the cards that the law may, like Sarmiento's remain a mere intention. Even supposing the lands were marked out and handed over to-morrow, I don't imagine there would be much room for speculation with the recipients, as owing to the infamous auctions of the Limay and Nauquen territory and the lunatic prices paid for those camps, officers here are already asking ludicrous prices for their rights. One, whom I questioned out of curiosity, told me he would not sell for a copper under 7,000 nats. per league, and quite right he is to, when he sees a camp composed of 'piedragullo' and sand sold in Limay for 11,500. It would be a grand sight to see the faces of the victims of the above mentioned auctions when they come to see their properties. I do not consider they are entitled to any consideration, as surely if they had been possessed of any common sense they might have seen plainly enough that all the Rio Negro men present, who might be fairly supposed to know the camps, stopped short at certain prices, and out of all the large speculators in land so well known in Buenos Aires not a single one was imbecile enough to buy.

Business is generally dull here; cattle are extremely scarce and an owner of fat animals could now ask and get his own price. Capones are selling at 40 and $45, and sheep 'al corte' would be difficult to find under $30. It goes without saying that hides are as cheap as ever, prices varying, say cow hides 48 to to $60. Potro, 24 to 30. Sheepskins $48 per dozen and lambs as usual are not vendible. We have had a great quantity of rain lately, and therefore the crops are all flourishing; vegetables, of all description, maize, wheat and even fruits are likely to be abundant, always supposing that the river doesn't change its mind and overflow everything. I did myself the pleasure of paying Don Justo Jones a visit a few days since, and was gratified by being shown over his brother-in-law's magnificent establishment. Comandante Belisle has spared no expense and has an estancia worthy of the most flourishing district of B. Aires. Mr. Jones has some 40 squares prepared for maize and a further lot under wheat, but in my next I will send you a minute account of San Pablo the best estancia on the Rio Negro.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

To-day the R.M.S. Elbe sails; she takes a heavy mail and a few passengers, and, we believe, some gold.

The President signed the decree last evening proroguing Congress, and accompanied with a list of the various measures that have to be despatched before the session finally closes.

Messrs. Bullrich & Co. have made another great sale of city property, Calle Victoria Nos. 19 and 21, the legal valuation was 26,000 $m/n, the place sold for $47,500 m/n. Buyer Mr P. F. Lara.

We regret to announce the death of Dr. Alexander Plaza Montero at Granada, Spain, on 22nd Aug. Deceased was much esteemed by all who knew him, and his death will throw some of the first families of this city into mourning.

Mr. Keyser, the empresario of what is known as the Telefono Mecanico, has sold out to Mr. Fontan, who now carries on this business.

Commander Pereyra, who figured in the late duel, was set at liberty yesterday. We suppose Col. Fotheringham also; both are rapidly recovering from their wounds.

On the 5th inst two Basque women play a ball match, we believe at the cancha de Moreno. This will be a novelty in ball playing; but we see nothing very strange in it since our fair countrywomen play at tennis and cricket.

The new Government steamer Limay on the Rio Negro, made her trial trip yesterday on that river with the best success.

General Winter, Governor of Patagones, will leave for Viedma on the 15th inst.

We hear that it has rained heavily in the South, and that the camps and stock are in splendid condition.

We must all try to look as British as we can for the next fortnight or three weeks, otherwise we shall certainly be stopped in the streets by the 'comisiones' going about looking for National Guard warriors. The time for enrolment ended yesterday.

The telegraphic news for breakfast yesterday morning was extremely wishy-washy. Who cares about French elections? The earthquake in Lima and gigantic fire in Iquique were more readable. An earthquake or an elopement always gives a properly constituted stomach an appetite for breakfast.

The weather took a sudden twist on Tuesday night and became as cold as charity. Yesterday morning it was still colder, with wind from the South. Shearing cannot commence if this cold snap continue.

A half past 24 o'clock in the morning now Lottery boys are to be heard yelling "Un enterito para mañana!" the object being to pick up a stray dollar from midnight roysterers on their way home. When a man is half-seas-over he is generally more inclined to tempt Dame Fortune than when sober.

The force of extravagant example! That valiente city San Luis calls one of its streets a Boulevard!

The Lottery for the Merced Church will come off on Sunday next. The numerous wealthy residents in the parish have taken a large proportion of the tickets.

The Prensa says that economy in public outlay is the project of projects for curing the crisis. We all know that; but our rulers seem determined to run the ship on the rocks. The end of the session has come, yet there is not even a whisper of retrenchment; and demands for supplementary credits ($50,000 yesterday for the Finance Department) are sent in by the Executive every day. As for Pensions, the scandal has become as bad or worse than the Lotteries; and on Tuesday Deputy Posse rose in indignation at what he very properly styled this "chubasco de pensiones," and walked out of the House.

Apropos of pensions. An old maid named Zellurayan has just been sentenced by Judge Ugarriza to pay back three times the amount she has swindled the Government out of by representing herself as the unmarried daughter of the defunct Colonel of the same name; also 1,500 nats fine, or in default, two years imprisonment. Bravo Judge!

The Italian Deerfoot Bargossi will make his debut in Montevideo on Sunday next and run from Pando to the bull Plaza, a distance of 21 miles, in 3½ hours, including rests. His wife will also do a race against time in the Plaza. It's a hard way to earn a living but neither Mr. nor Mrs. B. are ever likely to require a Liver Pad, however their hearts may suffer from such frightful exertion.

A clerk in the Santa Fecino Railway has walked off with 39,000 nats from that concern. The fellow was living like a prince; yet his superiors had no suspicion. This is always the way. The police after a sharp hunt, caught him near San Nicolas.

Here's the latest fashionable news from the country that licks "Creation:" "It is said that the show of diamonds at Long Branch is finer than ever this year. One of the wealthiest, most "diamonded," and most gorgeously apparelled ladies is the wife of a New York barber, who has made a fortune in stock speculation. Her husband still scrapes chins notwithstanding the fact that his wife has "society" aspirations. Most of his customers are brokers and railroad men. He picks up valuable "points" from them, and for that reason insists on remaining in business. Another woman, who wears splendid toilets and jewels, is the wife of a Brooklyn baker. Her husband, starting in life as a journeyman kneader of dough, hit upon a kind of bread that pleased New York's palates, and now he is a millionaire, lives in great style, and maintains one of the handsomest turnouts on the coast."

The Rosario papers complain that the police doctor there is never to be found when he is wanted. Why should he? No policeman, be he doctor or detective, or simply 102, has ever yet been found when wanted in any part of the globe, so why should the police 'medico' in Rosario be first to break through such a time-honoured rule.

Teaching-Staff

The Staff, which is now completed, consists of the following; and, as will be seen by the qualifications appended is, perhaps the best working-staff to be found in any private school, Native or Foreign, in the Argentine Republic.

I—Rector, A Watson Hutton, M.A., F.E.I.S. Master of Arts ("Honours" in Philosophy, Edinburgh University); Fellow of the Educational Institute of Scotland, First Prize Essayist (Educational Subjects) Edinburgh University, Session 1879-80; and, for more than eight years one of the Masters of George Watson' College, Edinburgh.

II—Lady-Superintendent, Mrs. Hutton, Government Certificated Teacher; 'Queen's Scholar' of the Normal Training College, Edinburgh; and for more than seven years Chief Lady-Teacher in George Watson's College, Edinburgh.

III—Spanish, French &c. Master, M. Edmund Reydams, "Gradué en Lettres," Brussels University.

IV—Elementary Mistress and General Assistant, Mi s E C Waters, Government Certificated Teacher, for over eight years one of the Teachers in George Herlot's Out-door School Edinburgh; and lately in Viscountess Keith's School, Kincardine-on-Forth.

V—Music Teacher, Miss M A Russell, lately of the Ladies' College, Edinburgh, where for the last ten years she has been teaching the Piano and the Harmonium in co-operation with Professor F W Bridgman, the leading Music Master in Scotland.

VI—Drill Sergeant and Gymnastic Master, Mr Wm. G. Wafer, lately of the First Edinburgh Rifles, and Cowan's Gymnasium, Edinburgh.

Prospectuses with full particulars on application.

The Irigoyen banquet on Tuesday night in the Colon Theatre was the very essence of "bon ton." No noisy declamation or increased garrulity as the champagne went round, but everything as subdued and correct as if the House of Lords were at dinner. The guest of the evening, Dr. Saenz Peña, and Dr. Gallo, spoke. The boxes were filled by the first families in the city.

The Lord Mare sent his Budget to the Government yesterday. Its principal features are a proposal to screw six per cent of their receipts out of the tram companies, and to make house-owners pay the whole cost of paving the streets, instead of half as now. Both the intended victims will no doubt howl and yell, but they won't save their skins, as money must be had to make up for the lost Lottery revenue.

The Consejo de Educacion at first wanted to have half the estate of the late Mrs. Rodriguez (80,000 Nats) but after a dose of law it has humbly accepted 10,000. This same C. de E we hear is going to build six more new schools in the city on the same costly scale as those already built, although no fewer than eighteen are to be inaugurated next month, in addition to the lot already opened. Soon there will be a school and a costly staff of competent teachers for every square in town.

The San Jose Lottery, by means of which so many Peruvian, Chilian, and Brazilian fools and their money are made to part, turns out to be drawn in a private house in Merlo, "con toda buena fé."

If a little baby that don't know any better sits all day on a pillow and is as good as a child can be, people say he is just like his mother; but when he gets on a tantrum at night, and howls and kicks and awakens everybody in the neighbourhood, then these same people assert that the youngster is for all the world like his father.

Dr. Zavalla, Governor of Santa Fé, is dying. He cannot leave his bed owing to both his legs being enormously swollen. Since he became Governor, he has not been in the Government House ten times.

We cordially salute our new colleague El Arte. It's just the thing in its line of business.

They charge like fun and fury on some of the river steamers. Forty cents for a small glass of miserable attenuated French wine; 20 cents for a package of horrible black cigars, and so on. By Jupiter!

There is great fear that the German corvette Augusta, which was in the River Plate not so long ago, was lost in the recent awful cyclone in the Red Sea. She has not been heard of since June 1st.

The papers give contradictory reports about the arbitrary arrest of the jewel dealer Martinez and his wife. Some say they were not arrested at all, and he says so himself, yet he was a week in a Comisaria without being allowed to go home. This looks very like arrest.

His Lordship wants power from the Concejo Deliberante to enforce painting and whitewashing at this time of year for private houses as well as "conventillos" and lodging dens. This is only fair.

Maestro Calestino's friends are going to give him a 1000 Nats' piano. Good to be him.

Oh! Oh! In Paris the City Analyst has lately declared that only 12 to 15 per cent of the wines consumed in the city are genuine. This beats Buenos Ayres hollow. No wonder that Frenchmen are degenerating so rapidly in physique.

The Teutons in Rosario have paid 10,000 Nats for a site for their new Club. Signor Berganini is the architect.

Monsieur Thibaud from Paris is the first piano-playing swallow that has reached our shores this season. He is young, only 25, and won the first prize at the Conservatoire when he was only 15 years of age; so we suppose there is the stuff of a Listz or Thalberg in him.

The dispute between the two Lacrozes on the now universal topic, gold or paper, is getting very cross; but will be submitted to arbitration.

There were very grand and solemn ceremonies in San Miguel church on Tuesday, to celebrate Michaelmas, which is a favorite day in our printing office.

The National Judge in Rioja has just clapped a Commander in the army into jail for a week (It ought to have been a year) on behalf of several poor "paisanos" he had dragged off for soldiers against their will. Praise to the Judge!

Here's a hint for our friends with peach trees; say nothing about it to the Industrial Club:—

"California papers report the discovery of a new wine—peach wine—made from the juice of soft, ripe peaches. It is said to be the finest flavored and most delicious wine ever discovered."

Signor Milesimo was born in Genoa and was precious near dying in Buenos Ayres. He was going home along Paseo Julio as drunk as he well could be, and happened to jostle a locomotive that was also going home, but was perfectly sober. Milesimo is now in hospital, and wont be worth his own name for work of any kind for some time to come.

The Italian workmen of the city are subscribing 15 cents each to give the Lord Mayor a suitably inscribed plate of solid gold, for his Boulevard idea, which will give such a lot of employment to the Ausonian element in general.

Ex-Marshal Bazaine, the surrenderer of Metz, is said to be an impecunious sponger or nomadic Frenchmen in Madrid, or what the New York vernacular calls a 'bum'—a sort of bum-Bazaine, so to speak.

Gold ..... 39.50 o/o prem.
Cedulas F 81
Cedulas G 87½

Although a settlement day, there was not much excitement in the market this morning, and, in spite of the large operations settled for cash, there was a dull feeling in the speculation. Over one million dollars changed hands for cash; the market opened at 38.80, fell to 38.60, rose gradually to 39, and then advanced in a sudden leap to 39½ o/o premium. Half a million was sold for the end of October; the market opened at 37.80, fell to 37½, and closed at 38. Small amounts of gold were sold for to-morrow at 38 60, and for the 15th of November at 37½. Operations during official hours embraced $1,632,000 m/n. The market closed firm.

Cedulas ruled in brisker demand, and Series F shewed symptoms of firmness. Sixty thousand F were sold cash at 81¼ and 81. Twenty-five thousand were sold for the 10th November at 81. Operations in Series G embraced 12,400 for cash at 87½, and 35,600 for the end of next month at 87. The following were the liquidation prices of the morning:—Gold, 38.80 o/o premium; Cedulas F 81 and Cedulas G 87½. Not a single operation was reported in National Bank Stock. Paper money ruled abundant all day, and was much offered on all sides. Gold was carried freely to next month at 1 o/o; last month up to 3 points difference was paid at the settlement.

The exchange market continues dull. There is a dead-lok in affairs, and the rate is quoted weak at 46¾d. Fewer Montevidean bills have been offering this week. The money market shews the usual symptoms of ease in paper. Gold to-day was far more abundant than at the last settlement.

The Municipality is becoming the subject of reform. A bill is being drawn up to place the Corporation and its empty treasury on a better footing. Amongst minor matters we note a proposal to levy a tax of 6 p. cent on the gross returns of the tramways, and to relieve the Companies from the obligation of paving or keeping the streets their cars run through under repair.

A few more parcels of new wool entered the market to-day, but no operations were reported. The favorite "artistas" are rather late this year, and they are much missed in the sheds.

Messrs. Bullrich & Co sold yesterday Mrs. F. Garcia's property in the Calle Victoria, Nos. 19 and 21 for 47,600 $m/n. Buyer, Mr. F. Larra. This small property measures 7½ yards front by 31½ deep, and has a three-story house on it. The valuation for the auction was only 26,000 m/n. The price paid is very heavy for such a small property.

The little steamer Limay has been successfully launched at Patagones. Her trial trip gave satisfactory results, steaming at the rate of 10 miles per hour. This small paddle steamer belongs to the small fleet of Rio Negro steamers.

The following is a summary of operations effected this morning at the ring during official hours:—

Gold—
For cash 1,170,000 at 138.80-70-60-70-80 to 138.90-139-138.90-80-139-139.50
For Oct. 31st 505,000 at 137.80-60-50-70 to 138-137.90-80-138-137.90-138
For Oct. 1st 5,000 at 138.60
For Nov. 15th 5,000 at 137.50
Sales, 1,632,000
Liquidation price, 138.80
Cedulas—
For cash F 60,000 at 81¼-81
For Oct. 10th F 25,000 at 81
For cash G 12,400 at 87½
For Oct. 30th G 35,000 at 87
Sales, 132,400
Liquidation price, Series F, 81
Liquidation price, Series G, 87½

The gold 'vencimientos' of the day's settlement amounted to 12 million dollars, for operations effected daily during official hours, but if we add on business transacted during afterhours, we may calculate the amount in liquidation at 20 millions, against double that figure for last month. September has been a very dull month, when compared with the mammoth speculation of August, and the last four weeks have been a mere winding-up process of last month's gigantic operation. The market, in fact, has been liquidating all September and no speculation has been organized either to bull or to bear the premium to any great extent. From a speculative point of view, the month has proved a great deception, as nobody anticipated such a very dull reaction after the August settlement. A month ago, all the brokers round the ring expected September to be a far more speculative month than August, and many are willing to trace the dullness of the speculation to the wet blanket influence of the new Bolsa.

The bulls have been unable this month to check the fall in the premium. Last month closed with gold at 44 o/o premium, but from the very beginning of this month the current of affairs pointed to a decline that has been steady, if not considerable. But for the large amounts of gold held by the bulls and the still larger amounts that the Bolsa owes to the Banks and merchants, the decline this month would have been more important, as there can be no question as to the bearish influence of the produce season. The indebtedness of the Bolsa on one hand, and the scarcity of gold on the other, have neutralized the bearish effects of the return of the busy months, and there are many who opine that the former causes will continue to keep up the gold market up to the end of the year, in spite of the crop and harvest.

The gold premium has fallen six points since the end of August, and the bears are hopeful enough to anticipate a proportionate fall next month. He would be a very wise man who could foretell the price of gold at the October liquidation, but all can feel that there are firm foundations to the present quotations of gold, in spite of the bearish appearance of the surface of the speculation. There are very strong interests in favor of a rise in gold, and these must be taken into consideration, as they affect the great producing power of the country. All the producing men are furious bulls, in words at least, and they may enter the field to kick the gold ball and influence the price of wool The wool consignees state that if gold falls to 30 o/o, they will send all their consignments to deposit and wait for a turn in gold or wool. All the woolmen are praying for a 50 o/o premium on gold.

The 'vencimientos' in stocks and shares show the apathy of the investing market. The following are the figures of the settlement:—

Cedulas E 30,000
Cedulas F 461,800
Cedulas G 489,000
Nat. Bank Shares 2,200
Nat. Bank Scrip.. 2,230

The above figures shew the dull and slow speculation that vegetates outside the gold circle. An attempt was made this month to infuse a spark of life into National Bank Scrip, and prices, no doubt, advanced, but the speculation failed to take root and National Bank stock has been dull as ever this month. The sanction of the Forced Currency Bill, however, will create a fresh demand and put up the price of the paid-up share and scrip. The Bank is doing an immense business, and the proposed increase in the emission will extend its sphere of action.

Small amounts of exchange were passed this afternoon at 46¾d.

The following amounts were delivered in liquidation to-day:—

Gold..... $1,580,000
Scrip 4,250
Cedulas F..... 348,800
Cedulas G..... 146,000

The gold market ruled very active during afterhours, and large amounts changed hands from 40 per cent, top price to 38.20, bottom price, for cash. At quarter past four, to the astonishment of all, the liquidator ordered an auction and sold 105,000$ at 38.20. The whole affair turned out to be a mistake, arising from the delay of a popular broker to take up the amount. When the broker, in question, turned up with paper money in hand to take up this gold, the brokers very generously returned the amounts that they had bought at auction. The market closed at 38.20 for cash, and 37.70 for the end of next month, buyers. About a million dollars were sold this evening.

The Board of Public Works have applied to the Minister of the Interior for $66,000 m/n to complete the payment of Mr. Bateman's account. This account amounts to about four hundred thousand dollars.

The State banks, it is said, give out very little paper, and one of the State banks is supposed to be drawing exchange, in order to increase its paper reserve. This sounds strange, when we take into consideration the plethora of paper that is offered in the market and the easy rates of discount.

Contrary to expectations, the gold market failed to show any very visible symptoms of weakness after the pressure of the settlement. Immediately after the close of the ring, the wants of the liquidation put up gold to 40 o/o, but after the auction the market did not decline as much as expected, and the premium ruled hard at 38.20. There were numerous buyers at this rate and at 39.70 for the end of next month. The majority of brokers do not think that gold will fall much under 38 next month.

The decree, opening the extraordinary sittings of Congress, will appear to-morrow. The principal bills, included in the extended Session, refer to financial matters. The members of Congress were busily engaged to-day voting pensions all round. It is remarkable that the Budget has not yet been voted.

Government Bills appear to be completely out of the market. The Treasury has issued very few this month, but a plethora of this paper is expected in the market next month.

The Executive Power sent the new loan bill and message to Congress to day. Its discussion, if not in secret Session, will be both lively and interesting.

In another column we publish an advertisement of an auction of 100 lots of building sites in the vicinity of the Once and Almagro, by our popular auctioneering friend Baizan. His auctions attract hundreds of bidders and his advertisements thousands of readers. We back him, for oratorical powers, with heavy odds against any politician. The attendance at his auctions can compare favorably with any political meeting got up in this city up to the present.

The Spanish barque Consuelo, with a cargo of Spanish wine consigned to Rigal, has been put in quarantine. Her term of quarantine has not been fixed, but it will probably be a lengthy one.

From the Plaza Once de Setiembre we have the following:—

Messrs. Samson & Co. have informed the Health Board that they daily expect the arrival of the steamer Hylton Castle, with a cargo of wine from Spanish ports, to their consignment. She left Spanish ports, after the closing of this harbor against all infected ports, and without the necessary Consular papers. The Board has not arrived at any decision in her regard.

The Orenoque ran aground near Flores Island yesterday, but she got off with the tide in the evening. She grounded off the South West point of the Flores light.

The Joven Juanita collided with the Palmira C. in the Boca yesterday. Both vessels were much injured. The latter nearly went to the bottom.

The sumpts that are being at present erected in all the streets will be finished within the term of contractor Devoto's tender. The main drain that goes to Quilmes is progressing rapidly and will also be completed within the term of the contract, but the Riachuelo syphon will only be ready later on. All these works are rapidly approaching completion, and the connecting sewers with the houses will be immediately begun. A project of law is being drawn up by the Minister of the Interior, declaring the construction of these connecting sewers obligatory in all inhabited dwellings, within the radius of the sewers. Houseowners of this city must be prepared to spend 18 millions of dollars in these sewers; the connection in the street from the main sewers to the walls of the houses will be carried out at the expense of the Government. All these works will be finished before the end of 1887.

Messrs. J. L. Bowes & Brother, under date Liverpool August 25th, 1885, give the following:—

The wool market has been very dull for some time past, and although there is some little improvement in the tone as regards English fleeces, merino wools continue much neglected, and the opening of the important auctions of Australian in London on the 1st proximo, is looked forward to with some anxiety. It is thought that some farther decline in prices may then be established, and it is expected that the value of this class will rule low for a considerable time to come.

This position has unfavourably affected sheepskins, and the pulled wool has been, and still continues, much neglected; roans also remain very dull, and now stand at a very low price.

The recent business in sheepskins has been small, and the stock, of about 500 bales, was brought forward at auction to-day; the skins catalogued consisted mainly of short-woolled descriptions, and these met with a fair demand at ¼d per lb under our recent quotations; the inquiry for long-woolled skins was poor, and the small quantity offered was chiefly withdrawn, although holders were willing to sell on the basis of 5½d per lb for invoices of B. Ayres matadero. The stock of skins is now 150 bales.

PURE
Cod Liver Oil.

Prepared by LAMAN & KEMP.
An infallible remedy for the cure of all diseases of
The Throat, Chest and Lungs.
Used perseveringly together with the ANACAHUITA PECTORAL,
it has effected surprising cures in many desperate cases of
and other Lung Diseases.
LANMAN & KEMP'S Pure Medicina Cod-Liver Oil. In the diseases leading to consumption, there is no time for experimental trifling. They are swift and often fatal. The cough that is neglected to day may culminate a week hence in pneumonia, or bronchitis, or consumption. There is but one remedy in severe cases of pulmonary disease, whether chronic or of late date. It is—so say the whole medical faculty—the oil expressed from the Liver of the Godfish. But let the patient be sure that he or she has the true remedy. Let that remedy be Lanman & Kemp's Pure Medicinal Cod-Liver oil, and the invalid will have the best possible preparation of the reliable pulmonic known. Lanman & Kemp employ competent agents who reside at the fisheries, and who select for use the sound livers of the finest fish taken on the Banks of Newfoundland. From these the oil is expressed while they are perfectly fresh, and when the process is finished it is transparent as amber crystal. It is the best modern specific in its most efficient state, and has no equal in coughs, colds, asthma, sore throat, inflamation of the lungs or bronchia, debility, emaciation, and all the malapies terminating in consuption and confirmed liver complaint.
